Article writing – Lunch at School

Your government is planning a scheme to provide lunch for all students in school.

Here are some comments.

It gives children and parents no chance to choose their food. I don't like others planning my food.

It's a good idea. Eating together will improve life-skill of children

Write an article for your school magazine giving your view on the matter.

Your article should be 150-200 words long.

Write the article according to the plan given below, writing each task in the space given for it.

Body Paragraph – 1

Plan

Establish your opinion statement (in the introduction paragraph) with one supporting point.

Opinion : In my thinking, the government move is to be welcomed.

Support Point : a step to foster socialising skills in children

Explanation : Schools aim to temper students comprehensively to be successful individuals in a tough world. Campus, as well as classrooms, plays a determinant role in this schooling process. School lunch is such an informal educational programme. Food is perhaps the oldest and the most inspiring means of sharing and co-operation. As an old saying has illustriously put it, whosoever cooks only for himself is a thief. Shared lunch is a form of lesson that trains collective action and team work, the two life-skills that decide our fortunes in the modern world.
